ACCS (Acute Care Common Stem) trainees at University Hospitals of Morecambe Bay

Syed Bilgrami, Consultant Rheumatologist and TSTL Lead for ACCS UHMB

We are very humbled that we managed to host the first teaching day for ACCS (Acute Care Common Stem) trainees at University Hospitals of Morecambe Bay (UHMB) and hopefully we will be able to host regional teaching at the Royal Lancaster Infirmary in the future. We were overwhelmed with the response we had as this day was attended by ACCS trainees from the North West and Mersey regions as well as two FY2 doctors and some IMT and LED doctors as well. I am pleased that all tutors were from UHMB except Catherine who was from Royal Bolton Hospital.

Special thanks to Gemma Barton (Specialist Pleural Nurse), David Peery (ST7 Anaesthetics), Waqas Khan (ST4 Cardiology), Catherine Williams (Consultant in ED at Royal Bolton (TPD for ACCS North West)), Sabeeh Shams (ST5 Rheumatology), Ezolene Chau (ST7 Rheumatology) and Syamlan Ali (CT2 Anaesthetics).
